Paget Accepts Recognition Award For Local Chamber of Commerce

The coveted "Recognition Award" or program of work, the top award for all-around operation of a Chamber of Commerce, was presented to Torrance Chamber President J. H. Paget in Washington, D. C., Monday during the 48th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

National President Erwin D. Canham announced the winners during the National Recognition Banquet, held as part of the annual meeting.

THE TORRANCE Chamber was cited for its accomplishments in the field of commercial and industrial development, community affairs, economic understanding, Congressional action, education, and office operation during 1959.

It was the top winner among cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 class, nosing out Junction City, Kans.; Charles City, Iowa; Burlington, N. C.; Peru, Ind.; and Marshall, Tex. The latter cities received awards of merit in the program of work category.

TWO CALIFORNIA cities, San Leandro and Santa Ana, received awards of merit in the 25,000 to 50,000 population class.

On hand to congratulate President Paget when he accepted the award was Harry Lintz, frequent visitor to Torrance and district manager of the National Chamber. Torrance is the first California city to win the top award for all-around program of work in this category, Lintz said.

ALSO ON HAND to congratulate Paget was Fred W. Mill, immediate past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dick Fitzgerald, manager of the local organization.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, won the top award for cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 class; the Greater Hartford, Conn., Chamber won in the 100,000 to 250,000 class, and the Minneapolis Area Chamber won the competition among cities in the 250,000 and up class.

THE ILLINOIS State Chamber of Commerce won the state award.

Six California cities won honor awards in the fire safety category: San Diego, Oakland, Alameda, Hayward, Whittier and Albany.

The Shell Oil Co. of Los Angeles won an award of merit in economic understanding among firms having from 500 to 1000 employees.
